MARCIA & BILL FINKS

Marcia and Bill Finks, began Primitive Twig in 1990. Since then, their metal designs have graced the walls of collectors across America. Their work has been featured in television, magazines and international publications.

In 2007, their newest work, along with their home, will be featured in Home Magazine. This year they have added to their collection, a new line of found object dolls. They are made from salvaged metal, old tins, antique doll parts and vintage findings. To get more information, please view their work at www.earthangelstoys.com. Getting back to their original vision of hand made art, Bill and Marcia are designing and making their work in their East Harlem Studio and in Kingston, New York.
