Meet The Artist: PEGGY SAMPOGNA

Peggy Sampogna lives and works in Millville, Delaware. She has been painting for many years. She studied under Gustav Trois and Mariano Eckert of the Washington, D.C. area and Oscar Chelimsky of the Maryland College of Art and Design. Moving to the Eastern shore in 1990 then to Delaware in 1998 Sampogna continued her studies in workshops at Springmaid Beach, South Carolina under Carrie Brown, Louise Cadillac and others. She has participated in open and juried shows in Maryland and Delaware. Sampogna is represented in private collections across the United States.

Sampogna is a member of the Rehoboth Art League, Rehoboth Beach, Delaware; Delaware by Hand, Inc.; the Art Institute and Gallery, Salisbury, Maryland; and The Artists' Exchange, Delmarva Peninsula. As a member of The Artists' Exchange she participates in group shows and critiques.

I have moved through the years from representational oil painting and watercolor to semi-abstract then finally to geometric and non-objective works. Some of my works show my love of the landscape. Others show my fascination for shapes and their connection to one another. The use of color is also important to the image I am striving to obtain. To me making art is intense, difficult, but always fascinating and joyful. I hope you enjoy my work.
